SUBTERRANEAN RIVER RUN-NING UNDER THE CITY OF PROCHE!

(From the Pisch's Record of March 20.)

For eleven months Mr. Frank Takats and Charles Notzel have been engaged sinking a well on the dat north of the city. They are now down 52 feet. For three hundred fee the shadown through a compact coment or conglomerate rick formed of Immediate and quartints at that opth a steatum of wot varicelor of clay was no entered as it and pliable mount to be rolled into merbles in the pain of one shand; this clay streak, or layer, was passed by sinking two and a half feet further, when a sand concrete was ear ount red, viry solid and compact, and the shaft continued to be sunk through this formation a feet or two, when the workmen were surprised to hear strange gargling noises from below as of splashing water, accompanied by occasional crushing sounds, such as a made by rocks colliding with each other in a turbulant. were surprised to hear strange garging noises from below as of splashing with each other in a turbulent rapidly flowing terrent. Finally, a little fissure or crack about half an lich in width, was discovered running a rac is betterned the shaft, which was characterized by an arrivagated great force, if the small fragments falling near it being suched in. DISCOVERY OF RELICS OF AN AN-CIENT CIVILIZATION.

Our sister Territories of Arizona and New Mexico will not in the future, as they have in the past, divide between themselves all the interest and glory of having been the theaters of a long past civilization. Lincoln county, Nevada, steps to the front claiming an equal share of such notoriety, bringing, in substantia-Con of ker claims, lileroglyphic stones, figured pottery, stone implements of husbandry, etc. Day before yesterday on the line of the Pioche's Bulliouville Railroad, on the foot-hills about half-way between the two places, relics of a bygone civilization of these kinds were unearthed. Before us are fragments of the pottery, which can be inspected by those feeling a curiosity in the matter. They are composed of a gray substance, and figured with indelible coal-black colors. The figuring is regular, and as plain as the figures on percelain just taken down from a merchant's shelf. We have not seen any of the stone implements. The curiosities were found on a level formation, about three feet beneath the surface, which undoubtedly had been constructed for a floor. The discoverers were excavating gravel to level up the railroad track when they struck upon the interesting depository. The spot is just beneath an overlanging point of rock, on which have been carved hieroglyphical characters in profusion, the majority having been almost obliterated by the erasions of Time. The following, however, are still distinctly traced—the one represented by the inverted Q being, of course, a little different from the original; the other may be received as exact fac-similes:

0 Further developments may disclose relics still more interesting.

It would seem that the ingenious race who manufactured these specimens of art should have known something of the immense silver deposits in the hills, at the base of which they had their habitations; but if they were workers in the precious metals the evidences have yet to be discovered.—Piecke Record.

THE IMPERIAL

FIRE Insurance Co. of London

Sound Business Considerations why the Imperial should be preferred

TO ANYOTHER FOREIGN COMPANY:

First—It was established in 180B, and is the oldest FIRE Insurance Company represented in the United States.

Second—It has subscribed capital of $8,000,000, of which $3,500,000 is PAID UP in Gold with further accummulated assets of $2,218-0.05 making it at once the Strongest and Richest Fire Insurance Company in the World.

Third—This Company poiss a Fire Business Exclusively, and none of its assets are liable to be diverted for Lite or Marine losses, as is the case with all other English Companies represented on this coast.

Fourth—This Company's losses at CHICAGO were less than one hundred flourish for pollars and have been paid in full, dollar for pollars.
